

Train-the-Trainer Program on Research Integrity

The VIRT2UE project offers an innovative train-the-trainer program on research integrity, and we would like to invite you to participate. The program aims to foster the internalization of the principles of European Code of Conduct for Research Integrity and strives to facilitate the cultivation of scientific virtues among trainers and researchers. Our train-the-trainer program consists of 1) a preparatory online course, 2) synchronous virtual meetings, and 3) a follow-up meeting that will either be offered online or face-to-face (depending on the pandemic situation and the preferences of participants).
