The screenshot shows a social media feed for the Netherlands Research Integrity Network (NRIN). At the top, there are tabs for 'All', 'Images', 'Videos', 'Articles', and 'Documents'. The profile header for NRIN shows 544 followers. A post from Serge Horbach (Assistant professor, Institute for Science in Society, Radboud University) is featured, announcing a new article: 'Thou Shalt Not! – How the institutional afterlife of research misconduct scandals shapes research integrity training' from the Journal of Responsible Innovation. Below this, a post from Marie Alavi and 47 others is visible. Another NRIN post mentions attending the Netherlands Open Science Festival in Maastricht. At the bottom, a photograph shows a conference room with a screen displaying 'NATIONAL OPEN SCIENCE FESTIVAL'.
